

Prepaid Card

Many of my clients are using a prepaid card to continue bouncing off on each other. Within that concept this is how it works: You purchase a credit in advance and you can use up that credit by mutual agreement.

People experience the use of the prepaid card as very pleasant, because it allows you to work on your own process of growth in which you frequently can fall back onto my support. Perceive it as some personal guidance for your own process.

How does it work?

- You purchase and pay for the prepaid card in advance. I will send you an invoice upfront.
- Prepaid cards are available in 200 minutes (240 euro) or 500 minutes (600 euro). The larger one is ideal if you are seeking more broadening and deepening within your own process.
- You send me a mail or an IM/Whatsapp message that you want to do a session with me and when it suits you to do that. [please provide me with some dates for that].
- My morning sessions start at 9 AM and the afternoon sessions start at 1 PM.
- I will check my calendar to see when there is an opening available and together we plan the session.
- I am setting my time clock and at the end of the session I make a note of how many minutes we used on this session.
- After each session, you receive a short overview by mail of the available credit you still have
- When you have 40 minutes or less available on your prepaid card or nearing that point, then it is my duty to inform you in time about this by mail.
- You can also use up your prepaid card to ask profound questions either through mail, IM or whatsapp. I will take some time to respond to this and to support and guide you to the best of my abilities. The time this takes, I deduct from your prepaid card.
